Summary (Arial 9, Sentence case, bold, centred)

The objective of the study was to describe the results of both clinical and laboratory investigation performed for two clinical cases involving red squirrels (Sciurus vulgaris). The animals, male and female, aged approximately one month, were rescued on a university campus, in September, 2018.... (Text – Arial 9, Sentence case, paragraph alignment – Justify, without Indentation for the first line)

Keywords: Sciurus vulgaris, necrotic lesions, associated bacterial flora, antimicrobial resistance. (Arial 9, minuscule, paragraph alignment – Justify, without Indentation for the first line. Maximum 5 key words, period in the end).

Canine vector-borne diseases (CVBDs) represent a wide group of diseases of major significance for canine health. In addition to their veterinary importance, many of these diseases are of great zoonotic concern, adding a risk of potential transmission to humans..... (Introduction will be written without title – Arial 10, paragraph alignment – Justify, with Indentation for the first line – 1.25 cm. Introduction will be preceded by a space of Arial 10)

Materials and methods

(Arial 10, bold, centred, preceded and followed by a space of Arial 10)

The study was conducted on two European red squirrels, male and female, evaluated to be approximately one month of age. The youngsters were found on the Agricultural Sciences and Veterinary Medicine University campus, Cluj-Napoca, having fallen, presumably, off the same nest..... (Text – Arial 10, paragraph alignment – Justify, with Indentation for the first line – 1.25 cm, followed by a space of Arial 10)

$$A = \frac{B \times C^2}{D} \quad (g/cm^3)$$

The terms (paragraph) alignment will be Justify, without Indentation for the first line.

Results and discussions

(Arial 10, bold, centred, preceded and followed by a space of Arial 10)

The squirrel youngsters were fed with cat milk substitutes for the following five weeks after being recovered. Crusty nodules appeared on the lids, ears and on the dorsal sacral region, disseminating on the entire body over another week. Edema of the ears, pads, anus and genitals was seen shortly after, accompanied by exudation and hair loss in the lesion sites (Fig. 1, 2, 3)....(Text – Arial 10, paragraph alignment – Justify, with Indentation for the first line – 1.25 cm, followed by a space of Arial 10)

Fig. 1. Clinical aspects – edema, exudation and crusting of the pads, penal, scrotal and anal area

Fig. 2. Clinical aspect – necrosis of the ear pinnae in the third week of disease (female)

Figures and graphics will be mentioned in the text as figures, in round brackets, abbreviated as: Fig.1. (see example above).

FIGURES will be included into the table without highlighting the borders (No borders), preceded and followed by a space of Arial 10, according to the figure presented above: Fig. number of the figure, followed by period punctuation (.), followed by space, then it will be presented the figure title without period punctuation at the end – ex. Fig. 1. (Arial 10, Sentence case, centred, preceded and followed by a space of Arial 10.).

The GRAPHICS will be named as figures, preceded and followed by a space of Arial 10.

(Arial 10, Sentence case, preceded and followed by a space of Arial 10)

Inserting TABLES in text:

A total of six genera and eight species of bacteria could be identified (Table 1). The tables will be mentioned in the text, in round brackets, Ex. (Table 1).

Table 1

(preceded of a space of Arial 10)

Bacterial isolates from various anatomical regions

(Arial 10, Sentence case, bold, without any space before, but followed by a space of Arial 10)

Subject	Sampling site	Organism
Male	Ear	Enterobacter cloacae Enterococcus faecalis
	Skin (dorsal region)	Enterobacter cloacae Staphylococcus warneri

The text inside the table: Arial, minimum 8 - maximum 10

Footnote – Arial 8, paragraph alignment – Justify, corresponding to the dimensions of the table, followed by a space of Arial 10

Figures, graphics and tables must fit in the page format.

Conclusions

(Arial 10, bold, centred, preceded and followed by a space of Arial 10)

The rich population of bacteria isolated and identified, most of which showing multiple resistance to antibiotics certifies the presence of bacterial infection and raises concern in the matter of antibioresistance, as it shows even in youngsters of Sciurus vulgaris which had never received any kind of treatment... (Text – Arial 10, paragraph alignment – Justify, with Indentation for the first line – 1.25 cm, followed by a space of Arial 10).

The conclusions will not be numbered and will be on the same page.

Acknowledgement

(Arial 10, bold, centred, preceded and followed by a space of Arial 10)

The study was conducted during the Erasmus program with the support of the Professors from the Parasitology Department of the Aristotle Thessaloniki University, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine (Greece)... (Text – Arial 10, paragraph alignment – Justify, with Indentation for the first line – 1.25 cm, followed by a space of Arial 10.).

Bibliographic references will be arranged in alphabetical order.

Author or scientific publications citation in text:

The authors will be cited in text using round brackets (), using the number from bibliographic references, Ex.: (1, 3).

It is mandatory that all authors from bibliographic references to be cited in text and revers – all authors from text have to be mentioned in the bibliographic references. Only bibliographic references closely related to the paper will be used as bibliographic references.

Bibliographic citations (bibliographic references) have to be correlated to the updated literature data.

Italic font – Latin terms (biologic species of animals or plants, anatomical names, etc.) are mandatory to be written with italic font.

Numerals – The numbers will be used for numerals. Separation of decimals will be done using punctuation mark period (.) – Ex. 1.5
For large numbers (hundreds of thousands or millions) short formulation will be used – Ex. 1.5×10^6 .
